FIRST MIGRATION DAY SATURDAY

HOMECOMING PLANS TO INCLUDE QUEEN, GALA FLOAT DISPLAY

COUNCIL TO ELECT QUEEN'S ESCORTS

The Homecoming Committee this week was busy selecting a queen from among the six candidates entered by the Evening College. Candidates in the race are: Rosemary Bonkamp, Betty Kohl, Betty Bunker, Pat Riley, Ann Klosterkemper and Marge Williams.

Floors for the Homecoming festivities have exceeded all previous expectations as 14 organizations have announced plans to enter tropes, Dick Geiger, festivities chairman said.

By mutual agreement of Student Council and the Military Ball committee, there will be no dance after the Homecoming game. Since the Military Ball occurs the night before Homecoming it was feared that publicizing a Homecoming dance would sap attendance from the Ball.

The Social Committee reported early this week that seven members of Student Council will serve as escorts to the queen and her six attendants at the Homecoming game on Saturday Nov. 20. The seven students have not been selected as yet, so no names are available.

Students Attend Annual Armistice Mass On Campus

Xavier University's faculty and student body celebrated the annual Armistice Day Solemn High Mass at Xavier Memorial Fieldhouse at 9 a.m. today.

It is a tradition of the University to hold each year a mass in remembrance of members of the faculty, alumni and students who are deceased. A custom since 1919, the mass was celebrated last year in St. Francis De Sales church.

Officers for the Armistice Day Mass were: The Very Rev. Celestin J. Steiner, S.J., celebrant; Rev. Paul L. O'Connor, S. J., deacon; Rev. J. Peter Buschmann, S.J., sub-deacon; Rev. Robert E. Manning, S.J., master of ceremonies; Miss Helen Gough, organist. The Rev. Joseph V. Loftus, S. J., gave the sermon while the Xavier University Clef Club sang the Mass.

Following the ceremonies, the students were dismissed for the day.

Transcriptions of the songs of Xavier as sung by the Clef Club will go on sale in South Hall commencing Nov. 15, according to Al Virant, chairman of the committee for record distribution. The record, to sell for 75c, in-

Knipper Heads Relief Drive

Donald Knipper, Business Administration Junior, was appointed Monday by the Very Rev. Celestin J. Steiner, S.J., at the recommendation of the Board of Presidents to the position of Student Relief chairman for the Xavier Campus.

He succeeds Charles Rubey who last year accumulated $2,000, as head of the Student Relief campaign.

The quota for Xavier this year, according to Larry Keller, chairman of the Board of Presidents, is $6,000.

Knipper will begin work immediately in the selection of a committee which will plan the activities in which Xavier students will participate.

Several events are already in the planning stage such as a dance and a raffle. The activities this year will center around a two-fold program, a series of social events and an old clothes collection to benefit the war victims of Europe and Asia.

Peter Bruse, and Jim King, two of the students who have benefited through the Student Relief program and are now enrolled here, have promised their whole-hearted support to Knipper.

Council Busy With Frosh, Traffic Plan

Student Council in its last two meetings has taken steps to alleviate the congested condition of the halls and stairs in Albers' Hall and the Library Building.

A new regulation, which is a suggestion to the school officials and not a demand on the part of Council, would have students going to classes use the stairs facing Victory Parkway and those coming from classes use the stairs facing Herald Avenue. Junior Councilman Tom Link, who made this proposal, remarked that some guide for traffic has been needed for a long time. Council passed the measure nine to four; those who dissented did so on the grounds that the measure would make Council look like a police force.

Two new faces were introduced to Council during the past two weeks: Jim Keefe, who will assume his newly won position as secretary of the sophomore class; and Jack O'Leary, representative to Student Council from the Campus Committee.

Thirty Frosh offenders, caught for such offenses as not wearing their beanies, were to appear before the Kangaroo court last week but failed to do so. Art Ney, who

DEFERMENT BOARD IMPANELED BY ROTC

A special board to handle deferments of the Xavier Corps of Cadets has been impaneled by Colonel Sidney F. Dunn, professor of Military Science and Tactics. It includes Maj. Victor L. Boling, president; Rev. J. Peter Buschmann, S.J., member; and Capt. James E. Aud, recorder.

Xavier Rooters Plan Cleveland Trek, 300 Will View Musketeer-Streak Fray

An estimated 300 Xavier followers will journey on a special New York Central train to Cleveland Saturday to see the Musketeers meet John Carroll's Blue Streaks in a night game in Shaw Stadium.

The special train will leave Cincinnati Saturday morning at 9 a.m. and arrive in Cleveland at 3:15 p.m. Immediately after the game or about 11:50, the train will depart and arrive in the Union Terminal at 6:50 Sunday morning.

Student Council's Athletic Board, said this week that about 100 tickets are still available, although notices of the event have been mailed to all alumni and parents and tickets will probably will not last long.

Tickets include round trip transportation from the Union Terminal to Shaw Stadium via train and bus and one ticket to the game good for a seat between the 35 and 50 yard lines. They may be purchased for $14.95 at the ticket office of the Fieldhouse, at the New York Central ticket agency in the Dixie Terminal Building, and at Shevlin's Oyster and Chop House, 27 E. Another feature will be a separate coach for the older migrators into coaches of their own. The Xavier University Band will make the trip in chartered busses and will appear in a half-time program.

Driscoll expressed the hope that this migration day could be an annual affair in the social life of the University. He emphasized that the success of this first migration would affect the policy of the Student Council in promoting future programs.

Rapp's Music, Radio Broadcast To Highlight Military Ball

Tickets, Reservations Available In South Hall

Ticket sale for the lavish Military Ball at Castle Farm, Nov. 19, moved at a faster pace this week as committeemen began taking reservations and planning transportation for ball-goers last Monday in South Hall.

Military Department officials gave basic cadets hoping to attend the affair a shot in the arm when they disclosed that uniforms for non-uniform wearing cadets will be issued before next Friday. Non-military students are invited to attend the formal dance as well, according to Cadet Col. Jack Dillon, committee chairman.

A booth has been set up in South Hall to assist those attending the "show." Committeemen Emmett Ryan, Vic Jelen and Jack Berger will sell tickets, take table reservations and aid in procuring transportation for those without facilities.

Highlights of the Ball will include the commissioning of the new Honorary Cadet Col. Betty Lang and a broadcast of festivities over a local radio station. Barney Rapp and his New Englanders, one-time craze of the New England states, will be on the bandstand.

Jean McCarren, vocalist, will provide the lyrics for dancing and listening pleasure.

● Rosary Crusade Dying

AMONG several features of discussion at Student Council's most recent meeting was a warning that the Rosary Crusade begun in Bellarmine Chapel in October is dying a slow death from lack of student participation. Coupled with the warning from Father Dietz, Council's moderator, was an exhortation to Councilmen to encourage their classmates to continue and even increase the daily storm of prayer in Bellarmine Chapel.

Since he is noted in Council as one not given to raising undue alarm by way of bizarre warnings, Father Dietz' action merits attention from each and every one of us. The purpose of Xavier's Rosary Crusade, instigated by an alertly constructive Traditionists Club, is the raising of continual prayer to the Blessed Virgin, Our Lady of Fatima, so that we may do our part in fulfilling her requests at Fatima through the Rosary.

Certainly no one holds more stake in the future than the college student of today, and nothing threatens peaceful security in the future so much as the clutching ideology of Communist Russia. At Fatima, the Virgin promised conversion of Russia and world peace if the world besieged her with prayer through the Rosary. It is hardly amiss to wonder what might become of Catholic college students who fail to fulfill their part in guaranteeing the success of their future and that of the entire world simply because they couldn't spare the ten minutes required to pray the Rosary each day!

The Rosary Crusade is conducted every day on the half hour from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. in Bellarmine Chapel. The Crusade has begun to indicate that Xavier men are not interested in the future. The more one thinks about it, the portent of that fact becomes more and more horrifying, doesn't it?

● The Power Of The Press?

FOR many years associates in the newspaper and radio field have always believed that the "pen was mightier than the sword."

For many months, the largest and most powerful newspapers and magazines in America took issue in editorials and cartoons with President Harry Truman, openly predicting the unquestionable victory of Governor Dewey of New York.

For many days, heated radio discussions from so-called analysts from Kaltenborn to Winchell, have told the American people emphatically and without a doubt that Dewey would be the next U. S. President. Opinion polls and surveys throughout the country, and even on such campuses as Xavier University, gave Dewey a comfortable lead.

For many hours, now, a bitter pill is being swallowed by pollsters, writers, newspaper publishers and radio commentators, due to the overwhelming victory of Harry S. Truman. Is the power of the press so powerful?

No matter how you voted, it is interesting to diagnose what seems to be a public relations and public opinion "blunder."

Perhaps we are to blame ourselves. Perhaps we have fed the man on the street too much of our so-called "publicity." Perhaps the radio and newspapers, making Truman the underdog, won for him the support and sympathy of the average American. Perhaps our ridiculing of the President's background, his haberdashery, his simple Missouri past, boomeranged? Perhaps the American public takes our articles and cartoons with a grain of salt because we have been handling the truth a little carelessly in the past. Perhaps it is our fault for betraying the sacred trust bestowed upon us, of converting our "freedom of the press" into a propaganda machine for our publishers and for our own opinions, rather than those reflecting the opinion of the average American? Perhaps the pollsters, the radio commentators and newspaper writers today haven't their fore-fingers on the pulse of John Q. Public as they thought—and perhaps it's their own fault.

So, let's take a look at ourselves, get out the mirrors, and begin to use our facilities for keeping the American public truthfully informed of world facts free from bias and prejudice.

● The Carroll Migration

THIS week our football team is journeying up to Cleveland to play a strong John Carroll eleven. Many students here will probably judge the latter team on the basis of more recent past performances against Xavier, and will be inclined to consider this affair "a pushover." The consequent conclusion is that the players won't need our backing and that we needn't bother going all the way up to Cleveland to see a game the result of which some prognosticators ("wiseacres" to you) already seem to know, supposedly.

In the first place, this opposing eleven is not going to be a "pushover." They'll be playing in their home stadium and will have the whole crowd cheering all the way for their side (that is, unless we do something about it). Furthermore, this is the same John Carroll team which early in the year fought the University of Dayton almost to a standstill, losing by only one touchdown just as Xavier did. You might retort by saying that they were "up" for that game, and we will counter-attack and state that they'll be "up" for this one too.

In the second place, we can do something about it, in the words of the political orators of the day. The Student Council has arranged for a train excursion to and from the game, all for the price of $14.95. This includes round trip train fare, a stadium ticket and bus transportation to and from the railroad terminal. There is no limit on the number of students taking advantage of this migration.

Whether by train, automobile or bus, it makes no difference, so long as we be there. It's up to us to see that Xavier is "up" for this game by our vociferous presence in Cleveland Saturday night.

Two Worlds

Group Plans Publicity, News For Region Papers

The NFCCS'ers are really on the go. There is no question about that as a look at the recently begun activities indicates.

The Cincinnati region of the NFCCS will initiate a regional press release service on Dec. 2 headed by Dick Hartigan, Xavier NFCCS publicity director. The idea came out of the Press panel discussion of the regional convention held here at Xavier, Oct. 23, and was passed at the Regional Council meeting the next day.

News will be gathered from student publications sent to Xavier from the 10 schools in the region and sent out once a month for reprint. The service is expected to give student publications a greater reader appeal with news of other schools appearing together with local campus news.

A two page spread of regional and national NFCCS news is slated to appear in the Xavier News Nov. 18 edition, the first of a series which will run individually in each student publication throughout the year. This edition of the News will be sent to each school in the region, and, perhaps, to each campus in the country.

The Radio Acceptance Poll, under the direction of Milt Partridge, regional RAP director, is in full swing. Milt has announced that Don Meyer, Frank Kramer and John Connelly are working with him in this project of Catholic Action. The response of the students, according to Milt, has been rather slow so far this year, but he expects a greater number of the students to take the ballots, listen and turn them in.

Senior Delegate Larry Keller presided over the third meeting of the Board of Presidents last Wednesday, Nov. 3. At this meeting the members decided on assuming the negative side of the current debate topic that state-supported schools receive Federal aid, and that this would be the policy of Xavier for the current debate-year.

John Lynch, National Student Relief Director from Notre Dame, was in town over the weekend to confer with Relief Chairman from our Lady of Cincinnati, Mt. St. Joseph, and Xavier.

Meyer's Radical Views

Dear Editor:

In the October 28 issue of the News, I read in the column "This 'n' That" by Joe Meyer, one of your so-called writers, that he advocates sitting down during the playing of both the National Anthem and our school's songs. Maybe he wants to do away with the songs altogether. This in itself could be all right I guess, if we had no legs. Meyer even goes so far as to say that we, the students, are tired. Maybe we should all give up and go home!

I hope that the views of this columnist are not the views of the paper, even though it allowed publication of the article. I hope that the proper authorities will endeavor to prevent the future publication of such radical views.

Columnist Questioned

Dear Editor,

In the October 21 issue of the Xavier University News I notice that Al Moser in his column "Down Front" recommends the stage show "Annie Get Your Gun."

The Catholic Telegraph-Register, which carries a weekly list of motion pictures classified by the Legion of Decency, and some of the stage shows, lists this play as objectionable in part.

Don't you think it's rather out of line with the true spirit of Catholic Action for a paper issued by a fine Catholic School like Xavier to recommend a B show?

Regulations For Deferment Of ROTC Members Explained

By George Resing

To be eligible for deferment until the completion of their academic training, students enrolled in Reserve Officers Training Corps units must remain in good standing in both their academic and military courses or face "greetings," according to Army department officials.

Further requirements are that the students must demonstrate proper and sufficient aptitude and leadership characteristics to qualify them for a commissioned appointment, and must attend a summer camp for specialized training when ordered by competent authority, according to an official release.

In addition, they are required to sign an agreement to accept a commission in a component of the Army or the Air Force, and to serve not less than two years on active duty as an officer, subject to call by the unit in which they receive their commission. Advanced ROTC students enrolled before June 24, 1948, and in good standing in their academic and military courses will be deferred until completion of their college course.

Xavier's Top Twirler Member Of Star Performing Family

By George Lampe

Drum majors come, and drum majors go, but the fellows who do the tricks with those silver sticks are a scarce commodity that is at a premium in the Queen City these days. The Wall Street big shots in regards to twirling stock seem to be Mr. and Mrs. George Buttlerwerth, who have a corner on the market in the persons of six experienced twirlers and four potentials.

Half time pride and joy of Xav-is his petite sister, Donna, whose amazing antics at Xavier Stadium have wowed the fans.

Under the expert guidance of her big brother, Donna is fast on her way to gaining professional form. A high-stepping, smooth-twirling little show stopper, Donna had every eye in the stadium on her as she strutted along with the band. At the ripe old age of six she is twirling two batons like the expert she soon will be.

"Practice makes perfect," the

ier University, Harry Buttlerwerth, is number one himself among his twirling family (and tops in our book over any twirler we have seen to date).

"Oh, about 12 years ago, I guess," was Mr. Buttlerwerth's answer to the question concerning the advent of his career with the spinning batons, and among the many students of twirling he has taught, he numbers himself foremost in the chronological order, saying that he just picked it up by fooling around.

The silver sticks have paid off for Harry, netting him two scholarships and a top prize in the state twirling contest, copping the latter when he went into state competition as a member of the Wesley J. Werner Drum and Bugle Corps.

Giving brother Harry a real battle for family twirling honors saying goes, and the 15 hours of practice per week (ten alone and five with his sister), coupled with the 30 odd hours of teaching, which may be included as practice, have made Xavier's star twirler just about that.

Xavier Chimes To 'Ring Out' Once Again

The old Xavier chimes in St. Xavier Church, former College church, rang out for over eighty years, and Xavier men bowed their heads at Angelus, and followed the call to Mass. When the college moved to the new campus in Avondale, Xavier chimes still rang in Xavier men's hearts, and one of their traditional songs became "Xavier Chimes". But—the newer generation of Xavier men had to rally around the memory of the song. Now, a new set of carillonic chimes are to be installed at Xavier to bring the living voice of the chimes back to the campus for this and for the future generations of students to hear and cherish and sing about.

The new Xavier chimes, secured by the Alumni Association after a two month drive for funds, will ring out for the first time at the Homecoming game with Marshal College on Saturday, Nov. 20. Helen Gough, organist, will play Xavier's traditional songs on the chimes which will be temporarily installed on one of the light towers for the game, and later will be permanently installed in the Walter Seton Schmidt Library Building.

The chimes, which will have a 25-note keyboard, will also possibly have an Angelus attachment and a device to strike the bells every hour on the hour.

The selection of the chimes was made by members of the Chimes committee from the Board of Governors of the Alumni Association after recordings had been made during a trip to Pittsburgh and Chicago, and had been played before members of the faculty and the student body for approval and choice of selections.

'X' Students Help At Atom Show

A dozen students majoring in the fields of physics and mathematics are assisting in the atomic energy exhibit at Music Hall that began last Tuesday and runs through Nov. 21.

The show, "Man and the Atom," portrays phases in the production of atomic energy. Evanston campus students will act as guides and explain the "what and why" behind the showing.

First Year Club To Meet Downtown Wednesday

The First Year Club of the Evening College will meet Wednesday, Nov. 17, at 8 p.m. and invites all freshmen of the downtown campus to join its ranks.

The club is strictly a social organization whose main function is to promote social activities and friendship among its members.

Business and social meetings are held twice a month in the fourth floor auditorium on the downtown campus.

Masque Society Selects Dates For Forthcoming Production

Sue Fisher and Joanne O'Connell, will portray the roles of Mary Seaton and Mary Beaton, ladies-in-waiting to Queen Mary of Scotland, in the Masque Society's forthcoming production, "Mary of Scotland." Both girls are students at the Evening College.

Production dates for the Masque Society's presentation of Mary of Scotland have been set, according to Walter Whalen, president. Performances will be given Saturday, Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday evenings, Dec. 11, 12, 13 and 14.

A matinee will be presented for members of the various religious orders and the clergy, Saturday afternoon, Dec. 11.

All tickets will be $1.20. Students, by virtue of their activity books, will be admitted free and be allowed to purchase a companion ticket for 55 cents. There will be no reserved seats.

The Rev. Paul L. O'Connor, S.J., dean of the College of Liberal Arts, has accepted the position of spiritual director for the group. He will officiate at the Mass and Communion breakfast that precedes every production, in addition to approving the plays selected for presentation.

The Masque Society, under the direction of Victor L. Dial, is holding four rehearsals weekly in preparation for their opening production.

Jobs Available For College Men During Holidays

The Cincinnati office of the Ohio State Employment Service has job openings totalling 3,500 for students interested in working during the pre-Christmas rush, according to Hildeburn Jones, manager.

Jones urged all Xavier men interested in a part-time job to register with the employment office located at 1017 Elm street.

"We have seasonal openings for delivery, mail, stock and sales clerks, and we are anxious to find interested and qualified applicants to fill these jobs," said Jones.

Approximately 600 of these jobs are for full time workers; others are for a half day, six day week; and some, two days weekly. Several sales jobs are for Saturday only, and others from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.

LOUISVILLE SMOKER

Students from the Louisville area at the Evanston campus will assemble in Room 108, Monday at 1:25 p.m. for a meeting relative to the Thanksgiving Smoker to be held in Louisville sponsored by the XU Club of Louisville.

Econ Club Elects Kreimer President At First Meeting

Rudy Kreimer was elected president of the Economics Club at their initial meeting of the year held Thursday, Nov. 4, in the Union House, according to Mr. Edward J. Murray, faculty moderator.

Other officers include Art Nocheck as vice-president, and Ed Kelley as secretary-treasurer.

Business handled at the meeting included an outline of the purposes of the club by Murray, the choice of the first Thursday of each month as the meeting date, and the appointment of an executive committee by Kreimer. Members of the committee are Paul Oberlin, Louis Younger and Robert Beiting.

Streak Eleven Up For Blue; X Is Underdog

Clevelanders Will Field Offensively Minded Crew

By Ray Sullivan

The Blue Streaks of John Carroll university will be out to break the most consistent jinx in their football history when they tangle with Xavier's Musketeers at Shaw Stadium in Cleveland, Saturday. It will be a nocturnal affair beginning at 8:30 p.m. The Streaks in nine previous games with the Big Blue have failed to win, their best effort being a 19 to 19 deadlock in 1922.

Boasting one of the finest offensive aggregations in this section of the country in '47, Carroll was fourth among the smaller colleges in total points, scoring 209 as against 125 by their opponents. Their lone shutout came at the hands of the Musketeers who trounced them 19 to 0, due to the excellent passing of Bob McQuade and the superb play of the Xavier forward wall.

Veteran Team

Carroll has a veteran eleven which is built around the passing of Bob Kilgoyle, who also does the punting and handles the ball in Coach Herd Eisele's T formation-Kilfoyle pitched 11 TD passes last season and was given honorable mention on the All Ohio team. Though he was nothing short of sensational last fall, the big junior is being hard pressed for his job by Rudy Schaffer, a promising sophomore.

Carl Taseff, 170-pound JC fullback, is one of the trickiest runners in the state, and so far this year the sophomore has averaged seven yards per try.

Though an official lineup has not yet been given, it will probably include the same men who get the nod each Saturday. At the flanks will be speedy Ned Janiak, and Roman Conti, a prize fighter in the off season. Alex Aurilo, and Sid Holowenko, a 225-pounder, will hold down the guard positions. Bill Eline, a par-excellent line backer, will open at the pivot.

Starting Backfield

In the backfield, Bob Kilfoyle will handle the quarterback duties, while Don Schula and Jim Moran fill the halfback slots. Carl Taseff, the sophomore sensation, will be the starting fullback when the game gets under way.

The Carroll-men, thus far, possess a record of five wins, one loss, and a tie. They have not been beaten since they dropped their opener to Dayton. X will be seeking its fifth win for the third straight week. The Big Blue has lost four.

John Carroll '47 Crew Won Six, Lost Three, Beaten By X

Saturday night's opposition for the Musketeers, John Carroll university, Cleveland, O., won six games last season while dropping three. The Blue Streaks defeated Wooster, Toledo, Baldwin-Wallace, Case Tech, Niagra and Akron, and bowed to Kent State, Youngstown and Xavier. The Musketeers took John Carroll's measure in the third game of the season last year, 21-0.

John Carroll scored 209 points to 125 for its opponents in the nine games.

OL' MAN SCHEDULE LANDS SOME TOUGH ONES ON OUR LADS FROM TIME TO TIME —

BUT THE MUSKIE BOUNCES OFF THE ROPES AND COMES BACK TOUGHER THAN EVER!

Liber, DeFranco Lead X Scorers, McQuade Stars

The 1948 edition of Xavier's Musketeers, presently boasting a record of four victories as against four setbacks or an even .500 in percentage points, continues to lead its opponents, but by a very slim margin, having racked up 152 markers to 143 by the opposition.

The Big Blue's elusive fullback, Jimmy Liber, has forged into the scoring lead with 25 points, just edging All-Ohio end, Jim DeFranco, who has garnered 24 tallies.

Bob McQuade, air minded Musketeer quarterback, added two more touchdown passes in the Quantico game to swell his season's total to nine. Tom Bohannon, sophomore field general, has thrown two TD passes to date.

Odd footed place kicker Gerry Keefe has managed to split the uprights 10 times.

The total individual record:

	TD	PAT	TOT
Liber	4	1	25
DeFranco	4	0	24
Conway	3	0	18
O'Brien	3	0	18
Davis	2	0	12
Hirth	2	0	12
Keefe	0	10	10
Glade	1	0	8*
McQuade	1	1	7

Squeri, Hardy, and Crowe have one touchdown each.

*Frank Glade scored a safety in the Quantico game.

TITO CARINCI STARS AS FROSH TRIM PAPOOSES

ROECKERS, HOFFMAN STANDOUT FOR BLUE

Our yearlings won their second game in as many starts by defeating the Miami frosh, 33-7. Completely outclassing and outplaying their opponents, the Xavierites, scoring in every period, piled up 277 yards on the ground compared to a minus 27 yards for Miami.

The boys in blue started the scoring early when Gilmartin passed to Hoffman in the end zone. Finnell's attempt for the extra point was blocked. The next score came as Tito Carinci, ace linebacker for the Baby Blue Battalion, intercepted a Redskin pass and raced 19 yards to score. Roeckers ran the extra point after a bad pass from center.

Pont Scores For MU

Miami kicked to Xavier at the start of the second half. On the third play from scrimmage Jack Pont, Miami halfback, picked a Xavier pass out of the air and

BABY BLUE TRAMPLES FLYER YEARLINGS 13-0

TOMMY MUSSIO AND BOB FINNELL SCORE

Continuing their policy of avenging their varsity brethren's defeats, the Musketeer frosh shot down the Dayton Flyer yearlings 13-0 Monday night in the Gem City, and rounded out their three game schedule with a clean slate. Freshman Coach, Ned Wulk, unleashed a horde of rabbit-like backs behind a fast charging line and this combination was a little too much for the Dayton boys to handle.

Crisp blocking and bone crushing defensive play, which threw the Flyer frosh for a minus rushing total, were the bright spots in an otherwise dull contest. The score could easily have been 26-0, but two bad breaks squelched drives within the Dayton ten yard line.

Finnell Scores

Bob Finnell rammed the first score across from the three yard line on X's first offensive opportunity. The drive started from the opponents 31 yard stripe after Finnell had returned Dupre's punt from X's 47 o that point. Several plunges through the line coupled with a quick shot down the middle from Gilmartin to Milostan placed the bal on the up-stater's 9. Don Jung picked up an easy six off left tackle, and Finnell terminated the drive when he hit the right side for the score. His conversion was good and the Wulkmen led 7-0.

Mussio Stars

Late in the second quarter, after Hoffman snagged a Gilmartin aerial on the Dayton 5, the yearlings missed the boat when they drew a fifteen yard shoving penalty. After a few short gains, the X-men lost the ball on downs.

In the third period a second X drive stalled when the frosh developed fumbleitis and lost the ball on the Flyer 8. But in the fourth stanza, little Tom Mussio, broke the jinx by scooting around right end, 29 yards for the final tally. Finnell's kick was wide, and after a few desperation passes by the Dayton Small Fry, the game ended with the Little Blue on the long end of the 13-0 count.

X Line Great

Led by Tito Carinci, who turned in his usual stellar performance, and "Tiny" Hoffman, who made his finest showing to date, the Frosh line was almost impenetrable. Jim Ausdenmore, Frank Milostan, John Bali, and underrated Ken Robinson also sparkled in the outstanding defensive show of the yearling line.

Flyers Edge Miami, Win Streak Broken; UC Loses, UK Tied

Miami's Redskins tasted defeat for the first time in two years when the Dayton Flyers upset them last Saturday. A last quarter pass from Ed Toscani to Art Bok was the payoff. Miami, who last met defeat at the hands of the University of Cincinnati, Thanksgiving Day, '46, had won 16 games, marred only by ties to Xavier in '47 and Virginia this fall.

Jim Howe's last minute touchdown gave Kentucky a 13-13 tie with Villanova.

The Hurricanes of Miami (Fla.) rolled over UC, 36-6, while Western Michigan humbled hapless Butler 20-7. John Carroll, Saturday's foe, eased by Marshall with a 20-6 victory. Louisville romped over Catawba, 33-21, while Evansville was edging Eastern Kentucky 7-0.

Quantico Wins In Mud Battle By 26-15 Score

McQuade's Passes Click; Marine's Bartos Is Star

By Jim Rasfeld

On a field of quagmire, estimated by the Athletic Department to be four inches deep, the Quantico Marines launched an amphibious assault which kept the Musketeers submerged most of the game, and they had the situation well in hand when the contest ended, being on the long end of the 26-15 count. The teams played most of the way through a misting rain, while 8000 fans braved the wind and the elements to watch the encounter in Xavier Stadium, last Saturday.

The Big Blue drew first blood, when, in the first stanza, Frank Glade, substitute end, blocked a Quantico punt on the opponents 10 and the ball rolled through the end zone for a safety, giving X two easy points. But the Musketeers couldn't stand prosperity, for on the next play, Donahoe, Marine player-coach, kicking off from his own 20, booted the pigskin into the home team's end zone and quickly ran down field to pounce on the free ball, while several befuddled Xavier men looked on.

McQuade To O'Brien

Early in the second quarter, after an exchange of punts, Bill Davis toted the leather twelve yards to the Maroon 28. At this point McQuade uncorked a pass to Hugh O'Brien for a touchdown. Keefe converted and X took the lead 9-6. But the Leathernecks bounced right back when Bob Scott intercepted a Blue aerial and returned it to the Musketeer 24 yard marker. Bartos swept the right end for eleven yards and a first down. On the very next play, Flores connected with Bernie Kaasman in the end zone for a touchdown. Score: Q. M. 12, X 9.

Just before the end of the first half, Jim DeFranco out-faked the Maroon secondary and snagged a McQuade pass on the Quantico 15. Liber sliced through for seven, but here the Marines stiffened and took over on downs.

After Glade's kickoff had opened the third period, Bartos, the Leathernecks nifty halfback, took a 40 yard pass from Flores and galloped to the X 13. But the Kluska-men, fighting gamely, dug in, and the visitors were unable to score. They were not to be denied however, for a few minutes later, Bartos snagged another Flores aerial, this time for 35 yards and the TD. Abraham booted the point and the Marines led 19-9.

McQuade To Liber

With only fifteen minutes left in the game the Musketeers buckled down, and after taking the kickoff, marched straight down the field for a score. McQuade's three yard pass to Liber climaxed the drive.

Toward the end of the game, Dick Ambrogio, a former Naval Academy player, brought the crowd to its feet when he raced 59 yards on a naked reverse to the Blue one yard stripe, only to have the play nullified by a roughing penalty. Minutes later however, Quantico was again in scoring position on the X 13 by virtue of an intercepted pass. On the next play Bartos took a pitch-out from Flores and threw down the middle to Smith who crossed into pay dirt untouched. Abraham again converted, and the final score was Quantico 26 Xavier 15.

Joe Meyer, Jr.'s

THIS 'n' THAT

James DeFranco, the greatest defensive end in the midwest and finest football player to attend this University in many a year, will undoubtedly be All Ohio and should receive All American mention. This editor has nominated DeFranco for Collier's All American six consecutive weeks.

Passing, for and against, is the Musketeer number one difficulty. With a good thrower like McQuade, good catchers like DeFranco, O'Brien, Martinkovic, and, until recently, Hardy, Xavier's air attack should be nearly invincible. The trouble: no protection for the passer. In the Quantico game McQuade had time to set himself, consequently he threw better passes.

Downfield blocking on the part of the Blue and White has been extremely poor of late. When a lineman has a block to make in the secondary he should make that block without looking back to see where the ball carrier is. The man with the pigskin will run; all the blocker has to do is block.

Spike Helmers played his greatest games against Dayton and Quantico. With Helmers on offense the Musketeer attack seemed to click better on his side of the line.

The mighty mites, Ballaban and Duff, always play good football but seldom get good writeups. From the press box they look as if they are enjoying themselves tremendously, specially when crashing into 225 pound linemen or butting heads with hefty fullbacks.

Head Coach Bob McQuade and his assistants, Jim DeFranco and Tom Ballaban, are whipping the Xavier News football team into some semblance of shape for their annual conflict with the Mermaid Tavern eleven. McQuade, who has already removed the crying towel from its hook, bemoans his lack of backfield depth and weight. Meantime, End Coach DeFranco is searching diligently for pass catchers who can run more than ten yards without falling over their own feet. Two ends, Dan Richter and the XU News sports editor, seem unable to get out of the way of their size 12 brogans. After one look at the line candidates Tom Ballaban thought Greco-Roman wrestling would be a better sport for them to engage in, especially the 220 pounders, George Jutze and Jerry Halloran. Fred Newbill, who rather resembles a broomstick, has volunteered for the post of statistician, while Dan O'Donnell, who raises French poodles, has taken on the post of chief curser of officials.

Mr. Thomas Link, who serves as chief book dispenser and pencil seller for Xavier University, has written a letter to this publication. We trust that all students will read this missile and, at the same time, recall the multitudinous misinterpretation of the Petrine texts, drawing an analogy between Messers. Link and Luther.

We wonder how red the faces are of those who predicted a setup schedule for this season. This column predicted a season that could be disastrous. We feel that, in view of the record, the success of the year depends on the outcome of the next two games. No upsets have been scored by the Musketeers. As the season progresses each loyal supporter looks on the team and its record subjectively, not objectively, which is true of every fan in the nation. Being objective for the moment we see that beating UC was the high spot, but the luster has been dimmed by the failure of the Bearcats to win any but their pushover games.

The band has finally discovered the art of spelling. For the first time in 1948 the entire audience was able, with only the briefest hesitation, to appraise the outcome of its maneuvers. However, the band still insists on playing dirges which, in the last two weeks, have been fitting accompaniment to the burial of Xavier's victory hopes.

A case of Black Gulch shoe polish goes to Little Two Shoes, alias Mr. Buttlerworth, for his amazing performance of last Saturday. It seems that the young gentleman, while performing his acrobatic stunts at halftime, could not decide which shoe belonged on what hoof. Added to this difficulty, the drum major's lofty pineapple* of success is being sliced in two by the vivacious caperings of his little sister.

*To those who think this is a mistake in spelling: The above is a reference to a saying originated by Mrs. Malaprop.

Baskets Arrive, Football Out; Hoop Sport To Begin Program

By Jack Schroeder

The intramural athletic program here at Xavier is slowly but surely taking form, and at present appears likely to be one of the best in this school's history. Much credit should be given to William Feldhaus, director of physical education, who has and still is working tirelessly to bring about an organized and well balanced project.

The basket shipment from Shiner, Texas, which had been delayed for so long, has at last arrived and the intramural equipment cage on the second floor of the fieldhouse is almost ready for business.

When things do begin to function, each student will be issued a basket number and lock which he will keep for the remainder of the school year. He will be able to draw his gear from the cage any time between the hours of 10 a.m. and 10 p.m. Each time a student wishes to work out he will be issued a towel at a rental fee of five cents. Such a nominal sum will barely take care of the cost of keeping the towels clean. There will be a charge of one dollar for the loss of a towel, and the names of the students who lose them will be recorded.

Sign For Equipment

According to Feldhaus, any student who draws some article of intramural equipment from the basket room will have to sign for it. Upon returning said article, he will pick up the charge-out slip and destroy it. Thus there will be no passing of equipment from one person to another because each student who does not pick up his slip will be billed for the missing article. Boys will definitely not be permitted to remove anything from the fieldhouse and keep it over night.

Football Dropped

To insure a reasonable amount of order there will be signs around the basket room and in the small gym to designate where certain things are to be kept.

In regard to actual intramural competition, because of the condition of the fields which are very conducive to injuries, competitive football will be dropped. Therefore, with the arrival of the basketball season, the intramural athletic program will get under way.

How's Your Musical Tolerance . . .

DOWN FRONT

By Al Moser

Snobbishness is not a native American trait. That's why it seems so odd that about ninety percent of all Americans are proudly and viciously snobbish about one thing, and that one thing is Music. Does the figure sound high? If, so, then analyze your neighbors and friends. (Don't analyze yourself. It will be impossible to convince yourself that you're a snob.) We've all heard hundreds of times, "those hepcats," or "listen to the long-hair," both said in the same tone of voice, with the same expression of pity and self-satisfaction. And even the hepcats and longhairs get together to bemoan the musical ignorance and provincialism of their less fortunate acquaintances who like Sigmund Romberg and Victor Herbert.

This middle musical class are probably the least snobbish, but even they, on occasion, denounce the "barbarity" of the moderns or the "stuffiness" of the classics. You may well ask, "Why is this?" And I can only say, "I don't know." Maybe the psychologists do. It might be interesting to ask one. But when you say, "Well, then, why talk about it? Can anything be done about it," I'll say "Yes, something certainly can be done about it."

This is not an article on appreciation, but rather on understanding. And understanding, in this case, does not mean the knowledge of the difference between a sonata and a fugue or something else in the music itself. It means a tolerance of the other fellow's tastes, and possibly a curiosity of why he likes what he does.

Let's enliven the discussion, and also clarify it a little with a few examples. Music is nothing but a series of progressions, to state the matter broadly—a little too broadly I fear. When you want to go up or down the ladder, the logical thing to do is to take one step at a time. If your favorite band leader is Woody Herman you're not going to like the New York Philharmonic if you hear it just once without any preparation. And similarly, if you and Brahms are buddies you'll probably have a heart attack the first time you hear Illinois Jacquet. That's like trying to climb the Empire State Building or jump out of an airplane. If you don't have an elevator or a parachute, you're sunk.

It might work something like this. Instead of the conventional music appreciation angle of the poor popular-music-lover trying to understand the classics, let's have a little variation. Here's a fellow who likes classical music. He just can't see this loud, blaring, unmelodious stuff that the popular bands put out. What are we going to do with him, take him to a concert of Jazz at the Philharmonic or Progressive Jazz? Not if we want to win him over to our side. First we might get him to listen to a few records. Maybe Gershwin's "American In Paris" with just a dash of Ellington music might be appropriate to begin the "softening up" process. Then play Gershwin's "Concerto in F", and some more of Ellington. After that try him on a little of Kenton's old Artistry in Rhythm. With all of this throw in some of Glenn Miller's great arrangements, and so on. It'll work in an awful lot of cases if it's done right. And the same process will work in the other direction, with a large dose of Tchaikovsky early in the course.

Now comes the big question. Why waste all this space trying to get everybody to like every type of music? Well, maybe it's an awfully ambitious or idealistic thing, but it all goes back to understanding. The more you understand your neighbor the more you have in common, the better you get along. And have you ever seen anybody get along together as well as people who like the same kind of music?

Supper Club's Stafford and Lee

PEGGY, (PERRY), AND JO.—Here's a verbal and pictorial salute to a great radio show, the Supper Club. This particular show, in its present form, has been voted the "Top Fifteen Minutes in Radio" twice in the last couple of years. As you probably know, the show has a very attractive addition this year—Peggy Lee. She is certainly one of the most successfully versatile girls in show business. She not only sings songs well, but she writes them just as good. A few weeks ago when I was talking to the Wades down at the Terrace Ice Rink, Betty Wade was saying that she and Bill worked with Peggy Lee when they were skating at the New Yorker Hotel. At that time Peggy was vocalist with Benny Goodman's band, and Betty said she was really a swell girl. The old faithful twosome, Jo Stafford and Perry Como are still on hand, and it seems like they keep getting better all the time. Or is that possible?

heads this court, asked the Rev. Frank T. Dietz, S.J., president of the Board of Sanction and Appeal to forcibly prosecute these men.

Last Monday Council became active religiously. At the suggestion of Fr. Dietz they decided to help promote the sale of Patna mission cards and seals by posting signs. Cooperating with the rosary crusade, the members of Council will recite the rosary in Bellarmine Chapel next Monday.

At Council's last meeting Senior Councilman Dick Henkel started lengthy discussion with his proposal: Since Student Council guarantees the financial success of all social functions but receives no remuneration for its efforts, therefore be it resolved that complimentary tickets to all social functions on campus be issued to Student Council members. The discussion centered around the question of whether all voting members or just the elected members of Council be issued tickets. It was finally decided that all voting members be given tickets.

Dick Henkel, reporting for the Athletic Board, announced that there will be no pep rallies in the future since there is a full schedule of activity without them. Bob McGraw, chairman of the Social Committee, reported that the Halloween Dance netted a profit of $158.

Prof Is Foreign Student Adviser; Announces Hours

To the approximately 20 foreign students on the Evanston Campus, the office of Mr. Frank M. Inserni, A.M., instructor in Spanish and Foreign Student Adviser, is a welcome haven where they can get advice they might need on the American university way of life.

"Often," Mr. Inserni stated, "the new student when he first arrives feels somewhat out of place. We have solved this problem to some extent by rooming the boys with American fellows. We have found that this goes far in getting the newcomer accustomed to his new mode of living." Mr. Inserni stated that he is available for counselling service to faraway students at the following hours: 9:30-11 and 1:30-2:30 Monday, Wednesday, Friday and from 10-12 Tuesday and Thursday.

Debate Society To Go On Tour

The seven members of the Poland Philopedian Debate Society will leave Saturday, Nov. 13, on a short tour, according to Victor Dial, faculty moderator.

Those leaving include Ray Schlichte, society president, John Vogel, Paul O'Brien, Malcolm Saunier, Larry Kane, Herman Ruether, and William Hogan.

Although it had been originally planned to use the elimination system for selecting the members to go on this tour, Dial and Schlichte picked these men because time would not permit the first plan.

Club To Reorganize

A reorganization meeting of the Spanish Club will be held Tuesday evening, Nov. 16, at 8 p.m. in Room 20. Mr. Frank Inserni requested that Spanish majors and minors in all four classes attend.

Suburban Theater To Show 'Henry V' At Special Rates

Students and faculty members of Xavier have been given a special rate on the return showing of "Henry V" which begins Wednesday, Nov. 17, at the Hyde Park Theatre, according to Jerome J. Lamm of United Artists Corporation.

The Shakespearean masterpiece starring Laurence Olivier will run for four days, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Nov. 17-20, and Xavier men will be admitted for the special price of $.60. Tickets will be handled on a first come-first serve basis.

Dance Is Planned By Heidelberg Club

The Heidelberg Club, at its last meeting, formulated plans for a dance in South Hall. The affair, to be held the first week in December, will be limited to 125. Tickets are to sell for $1.00.

The committee in charge of arrangements include Richard Davis, John McElwain, LeRoy Springman and Charles Feldhake.

A German-singing Club will serve as added entertainment at the affair.

Membership Open In Choral Club

Enthusiastic response of Evening College students to the Choral Club's membership drive has stepped up activities planned for the year.

The Rev. Victor Nieporte, S.J., dean of the Evening College, spoke to the group at their first official meeting of the school year, urging them to continue their interest and work towards a better club and a better Xavier.

Membership is still open; application may be made at any of the weekly Thursday sessions.

Heading the entertainment committee for the social held following the meeting were Jayne and Connie Holtel, Virginia Butz, and Mary Alice Kohl.

Union House Only Edifice Remaining Through Years

Campus Was A Golf Course In Twenties

By Ed Bedinghaus

Go back. Go back. Go way, way, back, to the time the present campus was part cow pasture and part country club. The football stadium was a swimming pool, the baseball field a tennis court, and the Victory Parkway was a defeat fairway for many golfers.

The only remains of these by-gone days is the southern colonial-edifice that now houses the cafeteria and union house. Then, the impressive red brick structure was the headquarters of the Avondale Athletic Club. The bowling alleys now in use were used over fifty years ago by members of this same club.

As the city expanded from the limits of downtown to the suburbs, the face of the Avondale campus changed quite a bit. Roads were built, land was cleared. The swimming pool, tennis courts, and golf courses disappeared with the construction of houses. The terrain was changed from that of a country club to that of a well developed and well planned suburb. Through it all the Union House remained the same with it's towering pillars serving as witnesses to the fancies of man's progress.

When the university moved from downtown to the Avondale campus, the center of all activity both scholastic and social was the present Union House. Walls that had once beheld athletes now beheld scholars, endeavoring to develop their minds as others had developed their bodies. As the university expanded, the role played by the house gradually declined, until the erection of a new building made it the grand daddy of the campus, mellowed with memories of yesterday and smiling on the activities of today.

To Make An 'A,' Make A Date

At Bowling Green, (O.) State university, Sociologist S. Harman Lowrie found through a questionnaire that students who have frequent dates make better grades.
